

We think it makes the story more interesting before you start reading it and it helps you understand it better.

Hopefully!

Excellent way to teach reading.

Very well explained and very informative

Good information and really helpful.

Very exciting and engaging for the kids.

Wish I was at school now!

Very informative, glad I came to understand the thinking behind the new reading strategy.

Good, interesting evening. I learned new strategies to work with children at home

Very informative and will put into practice what I have learned.

The children seem to enjoy it too.

Very informative.

Really enjoyed.

Would love to find out more.

This information evening was very interesting and helpful.

I would like to attend any further evenings like this.

The children enjoyed showing me how they learn in class

Good and informative.

Definitely be able to take this home and apply to homework.

Good insight into how this is taught in class.

Would come to another information evening

Really interesting to hear and see how they are taught things. Daunting having to do it yourself but it does demonstrate better how it works in practice.

Good session!

Very informative. Good that the children are made to think more about the book and around the story rather than just reading words.

Really enjoyed the session.

Glad to see the school doing something progressive like this.

Would be good to have been told in advance to bring my child

More parent:child sessions would be good

Very useful. Its good to understand the principles behind the teaching methods. I'll certainly pay more attention to getting my child engaged with the text rather than just reading it.

Thanks for putting the evening together

Really helpful to understand what processes are used to aid reading and learning.

Will be able to use when reading with my child at home

Evening very good.

Information given out better to understand child's homework.

Reassuring to see teaching style and approach in practice

Promotes ideas to broaden subjects

Interesting, well planned and well delivered

Very interesting and informative.

Now have more of an insight into how kids are learning these days and how I can develop their skills at home whilst making it fun!
